

Letter from Editor-in-Chief

It is a great pleasure to inform all scientists, physicians, veterinarians, epidemiologists, researchers in bio medical areas and other researchers who work for "One World, One Health" all around the world.

I am delighted to take on the role of Editor-in-Chief of "Journal of Zoonotic Diseases" (JZD) and would like to take this opportunity to introduce JZD. JZD is a unique source for veterinary medicine. It has a distinguished Editorial Board, including key opinion leaders with international reputations. It also publishes high quality articles written by experts in several branches of human and veterinary medicines. JZD's open access format allows the articles to be readily available at the time of publication to the research community and the public.

We also hope to continue to evolve and have good idea on how to proceed. In guiding the editorial team in the choices, we have to make, we ask our readers to help us to explore new ways to make the journal useful: please share your ideas and thoughts with us. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

I strongly encourage you to submit your work for consideration for publication in JZD. An enthusiastic submission requires an energetic and dedicated editorial board to ensure that your article will be reviewed and published rapidly. To reach this goal, we have tested many solutions and have adopted a simple Online Submission System for Authors and Reviewers. Starting immediately, all manuscripts and editorial communications should be sent via our Online Submission System by logging on to "<http://www.jzd.tabrizu.ac.ir>".

I truthfully hope that you will find future issues of interest and that you will enjoy and benefit from reading the journal.

Sincerely Yours,

Mohammad Ali Rad, DVM (1969-University of Tehran, Iran), MSc. (1979-University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign, USA), DVSc. (1985-University of Tehran, Iran), Emeritus and Distinguished Professor of Faculty of Veterinary Medicine, University of Tehran, Islamic Republic of Iran.
